PRESIDENT INSISTS ON RIGHTS OF NEUTRALS

BERLIN REPLY DUE IN TWO WEEKS

Note to London, Long in Preparation, Will Be Sent in Near Future.

Instructed to outline the attitude of the American Government in a way that will supplement the statement of position in the note. In German quarters no hint has been given that the German Government is looking for until after Gerhard reaches Berlin, perhaps ten days or a fortnight hence.

One phase of the note which attracted much attention in diplomatic circles was that relating to mediatory steps on the part of the United States looking toward a reformation of warfare on the same generally. In this connection it was suggested that the chief difficulty might be an insistence by Germany that the allies refrain from interfering, not only with foodstuffs consigned to her civilian population, but with raw materials of all kinds.

The note, it was said, was purposely phrased so that it would give Germany an opportunity to meet the wishes of the United States with dignity, and in conformity with German public opinion. Many officials wondered why Secretary Bryan declined to sign the note, which they regarded as friendly in tone, and carrying many expressions of good will. They claimed its friendliness was the very means that had been suggested—persuasion. Most everybody in official circles disagreed with Mr. Bryan that the note might lead to war.

EXPECT A DELAY.

Officials today settled down to await Germany's answer, which was not looked for under ten days or two weeks.

It is expected here that Germany will await the answer to the note, which will be sent to the German ambassador, who now is en route to Berlin to outline the attitude of the American government before making response.

The note which brought on the crisis in President Wilson's cabinet and culminated in the resignation of William J. Bryan as secretary of state, although friendly in character, firmly renews previous demands that the German government give assurance that American lives and vessels shall hereafter be safeguarded. What action the United States will take in the event that Germany refuses to give such assurances is not indicated in the note.

The note further declares that in the view of the American government the contention that the Lusitania was carrying contraband of war or that these munitions were exploded by a torpedo "are irrelevant to the question of the legality of the methods used by the German naval authorities in sinking the vessel."

"It is upon this principle of humanity," the note adds, "as well as upon the law founded upon this principle that the United States must stand."

The note asked Germany that it must have been misinformed when it assumed that the Lusitania carried guns, but the opportunity is given to Germany to submit any evidence that American officials did not execute their tasks thoroughly in inspecting the Lusitania before sailing.

MARSHALL PLEASED AT TONE OF NOTE

By Associated Press.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 11.—"I have read with a very great deal of pleasure and satisfaction today the official communication to the German government," said Vice-President Marshall today. "I shall be greatly surprised if there shall be found any large number of men in America who do not fully approve of its tone and contents. The President is meeting conditions, and no difference how much we may all desire arbitration and universal peace conditions are not changed by such desires. He speaks the voice of our common humanity, and I shall be greatly disappointed if the German government does not coincide with his views."

The President could not consent to a principle which would not put the government behind an American wherever he may lawfully be, however unwise that American's conduct. This is the traditional course insisted upon properly by the American people."

WILSON NOTE FIRM Will Not Admit 'War Zone' REITERATES STAND

The Secretary of State ad interim to the American Ambassador to Germany:

Department of State, Washington, June 9, 1915. American Ambassador, Berlin.

You are instructed to deliver textually the following note to the Minister of Foreign Affairs:

In compliance with Your Excellency's request, I did not fail to transmit to my government immediately upon their receipt of your note of May 23, in reply to my note of May 15, and your supplementary note of June 1, setting forth the conclusions so far as reached by the Imperial German Government concerning the attacks on the American steamers Cushing and Gulfight. I am now instructed by my government to communicate the following in reply:

The Government of the United States notes with gratification the full recognition by the Imperial German Government, in discussing the cases of the Cushing and Gulfight, of the principle of the freedom of all parts of the open sea to neutral ships, and the frank willingness of the Imperial German Government to acknowledge and meet its liability where the fact of attack upon neutral ships, which have not been guilty of any hostile act, by German aircraft or vessels of war is satisfactorily established, and the Government of the United States will, in due course, lay before the Imperial German Government as it requests full information concerning the attack on the steamer Cushing.

With regard to the sinking of the steamer Lusitania, by which an American citizen lost his life, the Government of the United States is surprised to find the Imperial German Government contending that an effort on the part of a merchantman to escape capture and secure assistance alters the obligation of the officer seeking to capture the vessel, and that the safety of the lives of those on board the merchantman, although the vessel has ceased her attempt to escape when torpedoed.

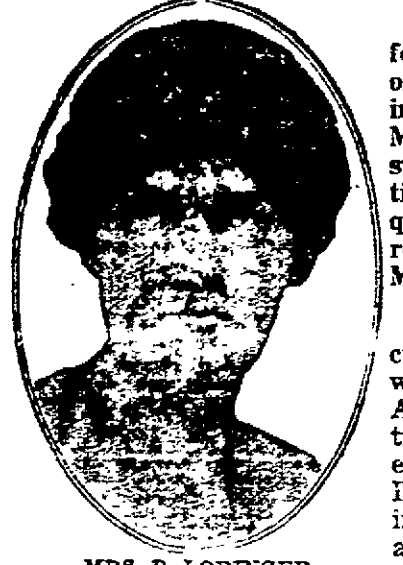

CREWS NON-COMBATANTS.

These are not new circumstances. They have been in the minds of statesmen and of jurists for centuries throughout the development of naval warfare, and the Government of the United States does not understand that they have ever been held to alter the principles of humanity upon which it has insisted. Nothing but actual forcible resistance or continued efforts to escape by flight when ordered to stop for the purpose of visit on the part of the merchantman has ever been held to forfeit the lives of her passengers or crew.

The Government of the United States, however, does not understand that the Imperial German Government is seeking in this case to relieve itself of the principle of humanity upon which it has insisted. Nothing but actual forcible resistance or continued efforts to escape by flight when ordered to stop for the purpose of visit on the part of the merchantman has ever been held to forfeit the lives of her passengers or crew.

Nothing but actual forcible resistance or continued efforts to escape by flight when ordered to stop for the purpose of visit on the part of the merchantman has ever been held to forfeit the lives of her passengers or crew.

THE UNITED STATES AND THAT, IF IN FACT she was a naval vessel of Great Britain she should not receive clearance as a merchantman and it performed that duty and enforced its statutes with scrupulous vigilance through its regularly constituted officials.

It is able, therefore, to assure the Imperial German Government that it has been misinformed. If the Imperial German Government should deem itself to be in possession of convincing evidence that the officials of the Government of the United States did not perform these duties with thoroughness the Government of the United States sincerely hopes that it will submit that evidence for consideration.

Whatever may be the contention of the Imperial German Government regarding the carriage of contraband of war on board the Lusitania or regarding the explosion of that material by torpedo, it need only be said that in the view of this Government these contentions are irrelevant to the question of the legality of the methods used by the German naval authorities in sinking that vessel.

But the sinking of passenger ships involves principles of humanity which throw into the background any special circumstances of detail that may be thought to affect the cases, principles which will, no doubt, be quick to recognize and acknowledge, out of the class of ordinary subjects of diplomatic discussion or international controversy.

HAS NO PRECEDENT.

Whatever be the facts regarding the Lusitania, the principal fact is that a great number of passengers, chiefly conveyances for passengers and carrying more than a thousand souls who had no part or lot in the conduct of the war, was torpedoed and sunk without as much as a challenge or a warning, and the Imperial Government will, no doubt, be quick to recognize and acknowledge, out of the class of ordinary subjects of diplomatic discussion or international controversy.

The fact that more than one hundred American citizens were among those who perished made it the duty of the Government of the United States to speak of these things, and once more, with solemn emphasis, to call the attention of the Imperial German Government to the grave responsibilities which the Government of the United States conceives that it has incurred in this tragic occurrence and to the indisputable principle upon which that responsibility rests.

The Government of the United States is contending for something much greater than mere rights of property, or privileges of commerce. It is contending for nothing less than the rights of humanity, which every government honors itself in respecting and which no government is justified in resigning on behalf of those under its care and authority.

Only her actual resistance to capture or refusal to stop when ordered to do so for the purpose of visit could have afforded the commander of the submarine any justification for such a course. The lives of those on board the ship in jeopardy. This principle the Government of the United States understands the explicit instructions issued on August 3, 1914, by the Imperial German Government, which commanded its submarines to have recognized and embodied as do the naval codes of all other nations, and upon it every traveler and seaman had a right to depend. It is upon this principle of humanity which is upon the law founded upon this principle that the United States must stand.

STILL OFFERS HELP.

The Government of the United States is happy to observe that Your Excellency is clearly of the opinion that the Imperial German Government is willing, now as before, to accept the good offices of the United States in an attempt to come to an understanding with the Government of Great Britain, by which the character and conditions of the war upon the sea may be changed. The Government of the United States would consider it a privilege thus to serve its friends and the world. It stands ready at any time to convey to either government any intimation or suggestion the other may be willing to have it convey and cordially invites the Imperial German Government to make use of its services in this way at its convenience.

It is concerned in anything that may bring about even a partial accommodation of interests or in any way mitigate the terrors of the present distressing conflict, whatever arrangements may happily be made between the parties to the war, and whatever may in the opinion of the Imperial German Government have been the provocation or the circumstances for the acts of its commanders at sea, the Government of the United States confidently looks to see the justice and humanity of the Government of Germany vindicated in all cases where Americans have been wronged or their rights as neutrals invaded.

The Government of the United States therefore very earnestly and very solemnly renews the representations of its note transmitted to the Imperial German Government on the 15th of May, and reiterates in these representations upon the principles of humanity, the universally recognized understandings of international law and the ancient friendship of the German nation.

CANNOT ADMIT ZONE.

The Government of the United States cannot admit that the proclamation of a war zone from which neutral ships have been warned to keep away may be made to operate as in any degree an abbreviation of the rights of either of American shipmasters or of American citizens bound on lawful errand as passengers on merchant ships of belligerent nationality. It does not understand

BRYAN TELLS PERILS OF JINGO

Urges Support for President in Efforts at Peaceful Solution.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—William Jennings Bryan, former Secretary of State, gave out a new statement today, which indicates pleasure over what he termed a change in the tone of the press regarding the American note to Germany. The statement follows:

"I am glad to note the change in the tone of the press in regard to the note to Germany. From the time the papers began to publish forecasts down to yesterday the jingo editors have been predicting that the matter would be dealt with 'great firmness'; that Germany would be told that there must be no more delay in the acceptance of this country's demand, etc."

"Every one of waiting until the note was issued they put their own construction upon it in advance and corrected it to suit the friendly tone of the note and pointing out that it does not necessarily mean war."

Something has been gained if the warrior journalists at last realize that the country does not want war, but that the country will support the President in his efforts to find a peaceful solution of the difficult problem raised by the use of the submarine against merchantmen."

The former secretary giving out this formal statement supplemented it with the following anecdote:

"A congressman replying to a jingo speech recently said: 'While I am personally against war, I am in favor of the country having what it wants. If the country wants war, let it have war, but let us first find out if the country does want war. If it becomes necessary to ascertain the sentiment of the country I suggest that a ballot be taken; let those who want war vote for war, and those opposed to war vote against it, and let the vote be taken with the understanding that those who vote for war will not be called upon until after those who want war have exhausted their efforts.'"

"I still believe," added Mr. Bryan, "in the right of the people to rule, and I think the congressman's suggestion might insure deliberate action on the part of the voters."

BRYAN SAW NOTE.

It became known today that although President Wilson knew that Germany was shown to former Secretary Bryan by direction of the president just before it was dispatched, it was not altered after Mr. Bryan had seen it. Acting Secretary Lansing, who showed Mr. Bryan the note, said today that "not a word or letter" had been changed since Mr. Lansing when he took it to Mr. Bryan and at that time, by the terms of Mr. Bryan's resignation, the latter was still secretary of state. Immediately after the conference Mr. Lansing signed the note and Mr. Bryan's resignation became effective.

Mr. Lansing attended today's cabinet meeting by special invitation of President Wilson. He was not present at the opening of the session, taking the ground, as it was expressed at the State Department, that he should not attend unless invited, in view of the ad interim nature of his appointment.

KIND WORD FOR BRYAN.

By Associated Press.

SANTIAGO, Chile, June 11.—Referring to the resignation of William J. Bryan as secretary of state, the newspapers of Santiago express regret. They call attention to Mr. Bryan as a statesman who advanced the idea of a union between the American nations.

BOY BICYCLIST INJURED.

Fremont Pearson, a 6-year-old boy, suffered concussion of the brain last evening when a bicycle on which he was riding with another boy collided with an automobile driven by H. A. Guma at the intersection of 14th and Grove streets. The boys became confused at the approach of the automobile and a street car.

THE IMPERIAL GERMAN GOVERNMENT TO QUESTION THESE RIGHTS.

It undertakes to put these principles into practice in respect of the safeguarding of American lives and American ships and asks for assurances that this will be done.

ROBERT LANSING, Secretary of State ad interim.

BLAMES 'SYSTEMS' Bryan Explains Action MAKES PEACE PLEA

To the American People:

You now have before you the text of the note to Germany—the note which it would have been my official duty to sign had I remained Secretary of State. I ask you to sit in judgment upon my decision to resign rather than to share responsibility for it.

I am sure you will credit me with honorable motives, but that is not enough. Good intentions could not atone for a mistake at such a time, on such a subject, and under such circumstances. If your verdict is against me, I ask no mercy; I demand none if I have acted unwisely. A man in public life must act according to his conscience, but, however conscientiously he acts, he must be prepared to accept without complaint any condemnation which his own errors may bring upon him; he must be willing to bear any deserved punishment, from ostracism to execution. But hear me before you pass sentence.

The President and I agree in purpose; we desire a peaceful solution of the dispute which has arisen between the United States and Germany. We not only desire it, but with equal fervor we pray for it; but we differ irreconcilably as to the means of securing it. If it were merely a personal difference it would be a matter of little moment for all the presumptions are on his side—the presumptions that go with power and authority. He is your President; I am a private citizen without office or title, but one of the hundred million of inhabitants.

SOMEONE MUST LEAD THE WORLD out of the black night of war into the light of that day when "Swords shall be beaten into plowshares." Why not make that plowshare? Some day, why not now?—the nations will learn that enduring peace cannot be built upon fear that good will does not grow upon the stalk of violence.

Some day the nations will place their trust in love, the weapon for which there is no shield; in love, that suffeth long and is blind; in love, that is not easily provoked, that bears all things, believes all things, hopes all things, endures all things; in love which, though despised as weakness by worshippers of Mars, abideth when all else falls.

W. J. BRYAN.

U. S. GOVERNMENT CUTS LIGHTERAGE CHARGES

By Associated Press.

SEWARD, Alaska, June 11.—Government lighters are handling freight at Ship Creek, the principal construction camp on the Alaskan railroad project for private shipper at $2.50 a ton, 15 cents less than charged by the private lighterage company. Officers of the Alaska Engineering Commission say they are prepared to reduce the rate further whenever business warrants. Owners of the lighterage company, which the government has entered contract with, they had not anticipated that the Alaska Engineering Commission would enter the transportation field so soon.

Address received here from the federal land office today said lots at Ship Creek would be sold at auction July 1. Andrew Christensen, chief of the Alaska field division of the Land Office, who is here, would not confirm the report, but said the government would not employ the leasing system in disposing of lots at Ship Creek.

PEACE BUREAU PLEASED AT SIGNING OF TREATY

By Associated Press.

BERNE, via Paris, June 11.—The International Peace Bureau has sent to the foreign ministers of Argentina, Brazil and Chile letters expressing deep gratification at the signing of the peace treaties between the three countries. The letters declare the South American governments have given to the world an example of good will, uprightness, love of justice and respect for right which are certain to have a beneficial effect on the relations between their peoples.

permission had been given for the landing of men from the Prinz Eitel Friedrich when accompanied by a guard.

"Under these conditions officers and men from the Prinz Eitel Friedrich landed and were ashore prior to the Prinz Eitel Friedrich's internment and the giving to the commander of his written parole by Rear Admiral Beatty at the Norfolk navy yard."

It is reported that the report of the Prinz Eitel Friedrich's landing was not announced, that he made it on May 13. No explanation was made of why it was made public at this time. It was believed, however, that cable dispatches telling of the arrest on an Italian steamer of a man said to be Captain Thierichens led to the publishing of the report. Captain Thierichens is aboard the Prinz Eitel Friedrich. Third Surgeon Nolte is said to be away from the ship.

TART REJOINDER LANDS DEFENDANT IN JAIL

When H. F. Nielsen hurled an insult at Justice of the Peace Aaron Turner today during a hearing on an order to show cause in Nielsen's divorce suit, the Court promptly remanded him into the custody of the sheriff. He was taken to jail to remain "until he obeys the order of the court" in paying alimony to his wife.

"Why don't you try and pay your wife something?" asked Attorney Turner who Nielsen took the witness stand. He had been haled into court on other occasions in the same manner.

"Why don't you mind your own business and let my family alone?" retorted the witness, adding derogatory words to the sentence.

Without waiting to hear any more testimony Judge Smith promptly committed Nielsen to the county jail, where he now is.

CAPTURE SALESMAN LOOTING TELEPHONE BOX

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—For the second time with two months the burglar alarm attachment on the telephone box in the Hof Brass Cafe resulted in the capture of a burglar with considerable loot in his possession, early this morning.

In the latter part of April a well-to-do Oakland citizen was caught while in the act of emptying the coin receiver and at 12:20 a. m. today Charles Bauer, a salesman, residing at the Hotel Hotel, 349 O'Farrell street, was similarly caught. The burglar alarm attracted the attention of The Tucher, the proprietor, who, with a number of employees, caught Bauer. He had taken $24.30 in nickels, a 10-cent piece and 65 slugs from the box.

OAKLAND FIRM AWARDED MEDAL FOR ITS EXHIBIT

John W. Phillips, after serving as grand marshal to the industrial and fraternal parade which captured San Francisco at Alameda county day at the exposition yesterday, was rewarded today with the announcement that his firm, the Gold Medal Water Proofing Company, had been awarded a gold medal for its exhibit in the Palace of Manufactures. The award was made by the international jury of awards.

This is regarded by Oakland business men as a big compliment to this city's industrial activity. Phillips was given an ovation and many congratulations at the Commercial Club rooms this morning.

AUTO TURTLES, 3 HAVE CLOSE CALL

Chico Girls Escape Death
When Big Car Capsizes on State Road.

CHICO, June 11.—Miss Helen Barnes and Miss Marion White, well known to Chico society, and Miss Helen Williams of Colusa had an almost miraculous escape when Miss Barnes' big automobile turned turtle on the State Highway, about two miles north of Chico, when Miss Barnes was driving it at a rate of more than 25 miles per hour.

Miss Williams received one of two scratches, but the other young women came through the accident unscathed. Several of the machine's fixtures were broken.

The accident occurred about 7:30 in the evening. Miss Barnes and her companions were enjoying an after-dinner spin along the highway.

When a short distance from Chico, Miss Barnes saw a car coming from the north and turned out to make room for it. When she attempted to come back on the highway, her car skidded and one of the rear tires exploded.

The machine lurched heavily and turned completely over on its side, crushing the occupants.

D. N. Meek and P. L. Lee, the occupants of the other automobile, brought Miss Barnes and her friends back to the city.

Miss Barnes is the daughter of A. C. Barnes, well-known business man, and Miss White is the daughter of former City Recorder Richard White.

BAPTIST YOUNG PEOPLE TO MEET HERE JULY 7

With delegates from Baptist congregations in all parts of the United States and Canada to the number of more than 3000, the Baptist Young People's Union of America will hold the biggest of the early 1915 conventions to be held in the Oakland municipal auditorium. The delegates to this convention will convene with those to the fifth annual convention of the Baptist Young People's Union of America, and will meet for five days, from July 7 to 11.

Among the prominent speakers on the convention program are Rev. W. B. Hinson, Portland, Ore.; Rev. W. S. Abernethy, Kansas City, Mo.; Rev. V. G. Gearhart, San Diego; Rev. Guy Lamsen, Philadelphia; Rev. W. W. Hamilton, Yorkburg, Va.; Miss Helen R. Crissman, Chicago; and Rev. E. L. Anderson, president of the Baptist Young People's Union of America.

A notable feature of the gathering will be a festival performance of Mendelssohn's oratorio, "Elijah," in the auditorium by the Alameda County 1915 chorus, under the direction of Alexander Stewart. The event will be under the auspices of the Oakland Rotary Club, the Baptist Young People's Union and the 1915 chorus of 250 voices.

Saturday, July 10, will be celebrated as Baptist Young People's Day, with exposition. Special addresses and music will be given in the Court of the Universe.

GOVERNOR MAY VETO TWO SCHOOL MEASURES

SACRAMENTO, June 11.—Although Governor Johnson has signed practically all of the educational measures presented to him, many of the members of the State Educational Department do not believe that he will approve Senate bills Nos. 236 and 237, which provide for a system of vocational education in California, and the issuance of certificates to those who are qualified to teach in the various vocational subjects. These include all the manual arts and trades.

Some of the editors believe the establishment of a vocational system in California now would incur the present educational system. It means more State aid, more teachers and an expansion of the present educational facilities.

Another bill still in the hands of the Governor and unsigned is one allowing trustees the right to lease dormant school property for a period of ninety-nine years. This particularly affects San Francisco and Los Angeles.

SOCIALIST PAPER BLOWN UP BY DYNAMITERS

By Associated Press. BUTTE, Mont., June 11.—Police and fire officials were investigating here today the cause of an explosion which wrecked the plant of the Butte Socialist, a weekly newspaper, early this morning.

The use of dynamite was indicated in that a patrolman who reached the scene a few minutes later, declared that he felt the fumes of giant powder. From the debris it was judged that the explosion occurred in the rear, where a gallery was torn loose, smashing the machinery below. The force of the explosion was great enough to blow the front of the structure into the street and to damage the upper part of the two-story structure, which was used as a rooming house. A brief panic ensued among the occupants, but none was hurt.

AMERICA SENDS BELGIUM 63 SHIPS BEARING FOOD

By Associated Press. NEW YORK, June 11.—Figures compiled by the Commission for Relief in Belgium and made public last night show that 63 ships have sailed from United States ports with 414,866 tons of food and clothing for the destitute Belgians. This is exclusive of 16 ships from South American ports and three from European ports.

The total valuation of the cargoes was considerably more than $66,000,000, the commission states.

PAINT WAREHOUSE BURNS. MARTINEZ, June 11.—The big warehouse of the storage department of the Paraffine Paint Company at Antioch was destroyed by fire Wednesday night with a loss of $50,000. It is believed the fire was caused by spontaneous combustion among tons of paper which were stored in the warehouse for the use of mills adjoining.

TO 'SLEEP' ON POLE TONIGHT SIMPSON WILL BEGIN HIS FEATS

Steeplejack Seeks to Solve Labor Problem

Tonight Bobby Simpson "rests up" for his struggle with the high coat of living and the unemployed problem.

Nearly balanced on the pole of the Security Bank building, he got to "bed" shortly before midnight, and from midnight until noon tomorrow he'll remain on top of the pole in the most remarkable endurance test ever witnessed. At the end of that time, he'll be "rested." Then he'll start his fight against the world.

Locked in a room at the Hotel Cretin, while a committee of business men guard the door, he will, unaided, begin his task of earning enough money to clothe and feed himself before 3 o'clock, when he is due on the Columbia Trust stage in prearranged tableaux and with money in his pockets.

How he's going to do it no one knows—not even Bobby Simpson—yet. He'll go into the room clothed in nothing but a pair of pajamas. He will not receive a cent from the committee by charging them to come into his room. He will not take any money in advance for anything nor accept anything he has not earned.

"I can make his way if he will work. That is what I am going to prove."

WILL GREET CROWDS.

So, after his twelve-hour stay on the top of the big flag pole, he is to start in with his theory. He will enter the room at the Hotel Cretin for his test promptly at 12:30 o'clock, after first presenting himself at a window and satisfying the audience of his presence and condition. His sensational steeplejack feat will precede a series of daring tricks during the coming week. Every day except Sunday, he will prove his ability to earn a living, each day starting from a different place, and doing it in a different way. Sunday is the day of rest, so he won't work. He'll announce the place tomorrow when he has picked out a lot for the starting feat.

Every day he must have enough clothing and money to have proved that he's "gotten by" before 3 o'clock, for that time he will appear on the stage at the Columbia. Every day at the matinee he will be introduced to the audience by Ben T. Dillon, who will count his money and examine his clothing, assuring the committee of the man's condition. He will then tell his audience how he earned his clothes for that day.

WILL DROP TICKETS.

From the top of the flagpole tonight he will drop free tickets to the Columbia theater among the crowds, that the witnesses of his flagpole trick may see him at tomorrow's matinee and assure themselves that he is the same man and that there is no deception.

The parachute trick will be attempted Sunday at 1:30. With him at this time will be the "Mysterious Bride," a young woman who has volunteered to assist him in his tricks, he, while she is adding him, agreeing to earn enough to support her as well as himself. ## BURKE HEIR ADOPTS LUCKY CAFE SINGER

LOS ANGELES, June 11.—The voice of Alois Mayer, 27 years old, who earns his living by singing in a cafe, and whose parents were alive in Germany the last he heard, won him a fortune, when the Superior Court granted the petition of Mrs. Edith Ames, 47, to adopt him as a son.

Mrs. Ames, who said she had been attracted by his singing, which reminded her of her own dead boy, is the daughter of Mrs. Mary A. Burke of San Francisco. At her death Mrs. Burke left an estate valued at about $1,000,000.

"I couldn't very well marry him," Mrs. Ames told Judge Sidney N. Reeve, in urging her petition. Mayer came here from Munich a couple of years ago. He said he had not heard from his parents for months.

Mrs. Mary A. Burke was the wife of Frank H. Burke, owner of La Sierra Rancho, near San Jose, one of the famous stock farms of California. After his death in 1911, Mrs. Burke decided to carry on the breeding of high-bred horses and cattle, and proved herself as capable as her husband as a breeder. She died in May, 1914, and left the greater part of her large holdings to Mrs. Ames, then Mrs. Charles Davis.

PRECEDENT IS SET FOR STATE ABATEMENT LAW

STOCKTON, June 11.—An important precedent in the red-light abatement law was established yesterday afternoon when Superior Judge Sumner ruled that Ziguero and Solari could not be held under the abatement act recently filed against a local resort. The Court declared that the property owned by Ziguero and Solari was leased by them without any knowledge that it would be used for immoral purposes, and that they could not be held personally responsible for acts committed by the lessee. The ruling does not, however, prevent the authorities from closing the resort if the charges against it are proved.

SAN PEDRO MAY GET QUARANTINE STATION

By Associated Press. LOS ANGELES, June 11.—Dr. Rupert Blue, surgeon general of the United States Public Health Service, accompanied by local health officials, inspected yesterday a proposed site on Dead Man's Island in San Pedro harbor for a permanent government and quarantine station. A disinfecting boat is proposed for temporary use.

Dr. Blue left for San Francisco tonight where he will attend the convention of the American Medical Association the week of June 20.

COLLECTIONS STARTED OF CORPORATION TAX

SACRAMENTO, June 11.—Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan has begun his task of collecting $1,000,000 in corporation license tax from California's 25,000 corporations, an increase of approximately $200,000 over the old license tax abolished June 30, 1914, but revived again by the last legislature, to become effective January 1, 1916. Under the old system of taxing the corporations netted the state annually about $800,000.

A crew of auditors and stenographers commenced early in the week making out statements and presenting them to corporations.

Under the old law a corporation with a capitalization of $5,000,000 paid a tax of $250. Under the new law that tax has been raised to $350 for corporations capitalized for from $3,000,000 to $5,000,000, and $1,000 tax when the capitalization is $10,000,000 or over.

Gompers Declares Labor's Inclination Is All for Peace

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, June 11.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, last night issued the following statement "on the present international situation":

"My opinion is that regardless of what honorable position the United States may take, the effort will be made to drag us into the international conflict whether we like it or not. It is a great pity that there is not greater publicity regarding international relations and diplomatic communications, so that the people may be in a position to form their judgment not after, but previous to, definite action being taken. I suppose, however, that this thought can only find its acceptance when more normal conditions shall prevail. The influence of the American Federation of Labor, of the workers of our country, will be exerted for the maintenance of peace, and yet we cannot permit to be challenged that the lives of Americans shall not be unnecessarily and unwarrantably jeopardized."

THE SECOND NOTE TO GERMANY

The position of the United States is very considerably modified by the President's second note to Germany. Upon sober thought the President has limited his "demands" to interests and considerations strictly within the jurisdiction of the United States Government. The humanitarian phase of the former letter is watered down to a presentment of the views of the Washington government, all in very earnest spirit, but in gracious phrase and minus the "demand" feature of the former note. In terms wholly diplomatic the Washington government maintains that the Lusitania was not an armed ship, therefore not subject to assault as such. Further on Germany is reminded that the United States "cannot admit that the proclamation of the war zone from which neutral ships have been warned to keep away may be made to operate as in any degree an abbreviation of the rights either of American shipmasters or of American citizens bound on lawful errand as passengers on merchant ships of belligerent nationality." In conclusion the government of the United States very politely "deems it reasonable to expect that the imperial German government will adopt the measures necessary to put these principles into practice in respect to the safeguarding of American lives and American ships, and asks for assurances that this will be done."

In view of the sharp tone of the first note and of expectations roused by the Bryan incident, all this comes a little flat. There is a notable let-down from the spirit exhibited in the first note. And to those who looked to see the President "repeat the allegation and defy the allegator," it will be a disappointment.

What it yields at the point of spirit it makes up at the point of discretion. The President went too far in holding Germany to "strict accountability" on the score of humanitarian considerations excepting insofar as they may apply to the interests of the United States. In correcting an error he now appears a bit weak and a bit timid, which goes for the ten-thousandth time to demonstrate the discretion of being sure you're right before you go ahead.

It does not call for a very profound exercise of prophecy to tell what will follow. After a due period of delay the German government will make a suave reply, to which the Washington government will in its turn reply; and so on ad infinitum. We shall hear nothing more of "strict accountability" in the tone in which this phrase was uttered at the beginning. Diplomacy has triumphed over that spirit of horror and resentment in which the correspondence began. Excepting as it may interest students of the diplomatic art, the incident may now be said to be closed. Practically speaking it is just as well so—assuredly much better. None the less the after-taste is not pleasant. The average American of spirit—and the average American is a man of spirit—will wish that the President had not thundered quite so loud in the exordium since he cooes so gently in the peroration.

In reading over this second note it is impossible not to wonder why Mr. Bryan was so profoundly stirred by it in his mental and moral makeup. What is there in it to disturb the spirit of the most profound pacifist? Where is the consistency in balking at this mild note after having signed the first, which was a hundred times more positive and beligerent? It is marked throughout, not more by moderation of phrase than by moderation of spirit. Mr. Bryan would have had the country believe that he feared the note would bring on war. It will do nothing of the kind. It is not suggestive of war or of anything leading to war. On the contrary, taken in connection with what went before, it holds forth an olive branch.

We can only conclude that Mr. Bryan, wounded in his vanities by the incoherent despatch in which he has been placed in consequence of his own incapacities since our foreign relations became critical, has made of this incident a pretext to escape from a situation unbearable in its humiliations. Or, mayhap, Mr. Bryan may have welcomed this incident as a chance to withdraw from an allegiance which had become burdensome and in the hope of re-establishing himself as an independent political figure, with that same old eye on the same old goal.

Nothing just like Mr. Bryan's address "to the American people" is to be found in the political history of this or of any other country. A minister of state, abandoning his service for any reason, commonly envelopes himself in a dignified reserve. This course universally regarded as morally obligatory where one has been a sharer in the confidences of state, would have been becoming in Mr. Bryan. His reasons for resigning his office, if related to the public, would have properly been made public at a later time. But Mr. Bryan obviously knows as little as he cares about the proprieties of official life. Reserve is no part of his philosophy. So, literally speaking, he jumps in with a personal explanation and a tearful appeal to the public concurrently with the publication of the diplomatic note which is the nominal occasion of his retirement.

Mr. Bryan's address to the American people is a mere preachment—a sermon—nothing more, nothing less. It deals not with conditions and circumstances, but with deals. It would "go" admirably before a group of benevolent old ladies of both sexes assembled at Lake Mohonk or elsewhere for purposes of moral edification. As a discussion of a crisis in affairs of state, it is beneath contempt. It goes to illustrate alike the practical utility of the Bryan mind, the utter deficiency of the Bryan taste.

But the matter of this address is not of serious consequence. The thing to be deplored is the spectacle which it presents before the country and before the world. Here we see a man who the day before yesterday was a sharer in the responsibilities of a government, who only yesterday felt it with honor, words of friendship and goodwill, turning against it with masked but none the less obvious bitterness. In a situation which comes near to the character of an international crisis, he deliberately sets about the business of stirring up in the country a movement inimical to the plans and purposes of the administration. He starts a back-fire against the President at a time when the government needs and is entitled to the full support of public sentiment. There are terms which may be applied with propriety to a man who thus seeks to thwart the purposes and plans of his country as defined by constituted authority and in relation to its foreign policies. We will not apply them to Mr. Bryan, since, perhaps, in his pitiable deficiencies at the point of judgment and taste, he may not comprehend—probably does not—the significance of what he has done.

PROFESSOR E. W. WICKSON.

It is not likely, in time past or time future, that there will stand on the rolls of the Carnegie pensioners for meritorious work in the profession of teaching a name more worthy than that of E. W. Wickson, late professor of agriculture in the University of California, now emeritus professor of horticulture.

We have some pride in recording the fact that California owes primarily a very large obligation, due on the score of Wickson's eminent services, to the profession of journalism. Professor Wickson entered upon journalistic work many years ago in New York state. Following the line of his propensities he specialized upon matters relating to agriculture, with close attention to dairying and dairy interests. Later he associated himself with an organization representative of these interests in Central New York. His work in this connection brought him to the attention of the publishers of the Pacific Rural Press, by whom he was invited to come to California as the editor of that publication. From and through his work in the Rural Press came the qualification and the distinctions in relation to California which brought him to the university. Professor Wickson's studies in connection with agriculture and horticulture in California need no exploitation. We think no other man has done more, perhaps no other so much, in teaching California how to turn her exceptional and characteristic conditions to productive account as Professor Wickson.

The Carnegie pension is wisely and worthily conferred upon a man who, in his professional work and in multitudinous other ways, has illustrated the values of inspiration and of thoroughness, in combination with a personal character at once sweet and manly.

A MATTER OF NAMES.

Of the $1,800,000 fund provided at a recent election for new buildings on the campus at Berkeley $600,000 has been appropriated for a structure to house certain work of the department of agriculture. Various names have been suggested for the projected building, among others that of President Wheeler. To thus honor the president of the university would be entirely proper. Assuredly he deserves any mark of appreciation that may be given him. Yet a compliment of this kind might better come in connection with a building devoted to that department of scholarship wherein Dr. Wheeler's distinctions more particularly lie.

If the Tribune were asked to suggest a name for the projected building it would hesitate between that of Professor Hilgard and Professor Wickson. Hilgard was the earliest scientific student of California's agricultural conditions, and his work in connection with analysis of our soils was and remains monumental. A proper tribute to his memory and to his work would be the giving of the name of Hilgard to a building on the campus. Professor Wickson came after Professor Hilgard and served for many years in co-operation with him. Later he specialized in horticulture and in this field he, so far as the work of the university is concerned, stands supreme. His name, equally with that of Professor Hilgard, is entitled to the honor of commemoration.

Equal and in a sense greater than either, as related to a phase of our agricultural interests is the name of Luther Burbank. It is true that Mr. Burbank has no connection with the university, but the fact is not important. Very properly an institution founded and sustained by California in support of the interests of agriculture might give to a structure for the uses of the agricultural department the name of Luther Burbank. The matter perhaps, is not one of large significance. None the less there are associated with it values entitled to consideration.

REVERSION TO TYPE.

Along back in 1909, when the New Theater plans, fostered and made possible by Winthrop Ames, the Vanderbilts and other wealthy patrons of art, were just getting under way the Century Theater, that great auditorium in Central Park West, had a wonderful future carefully selected for it. It was to be the fountain head of dramatic art in this country, the Metropolitan Opera House of theatrical America. It was opened with a flourish in the autumn of 1909, when a famous audience assembled to witness the dress rehearsal of "Antony and Cleopatra."

The New Theater subsided. The Century was conducted hopefully for a couple of years and such spectacles as the "Garden of Allah" were seen. More recently it was converted into a temple for the "art" of Isadora Duncan. It was used last week for the Lambs' Club gambol. Shortly it is to be converted into a music hall, a monster version of some famed London "all. It is to be under the management of Ned Wayburn: the inaugural show will be "Town Topics," a screaming melange by the author of "She's In Again."

It seems that New York City just simply cannot "act refined at all."

Happiest reigns in Petaluma. The three anti-Chinese egg bills have been signed by the governor. Again the noble Petaluma egg produced by the noble Petaluma hen stands or "lays" before the world freed from the plagiarisms of its enemies. The Chinese hen may do her worst but never more can she ruffle the chicken-coop calm of the fowl of Petaluma. Labelled for life on this side of the pond, at least, she will now be obliged to take up the conquest of Japan, or Germany, or Britain, or any of the easily conquered countries. But never again can she cackle in glory over a laid-low and egg-beaten Petaluma. Whatever she lays at our door will be plainly marked against her. We will know when she appears in the cakes like mother used to bake. The leghorn of Petaluma is proud to be alive today.

The Long Island railroad has just caused to be erected at one of its street crossings in Brooklyn, N. Y., an immense sign, bearing a warning in original terms, as warnings go:

THIS SIGN MAY SAVE YOUR LIFE TODAY.

All the precautions in the world will not save the lives of those who drive automobiles recklessly over railroad crossings. When approaching a crossing stop, look, listen. We are doing our part. Won't you do yours? And listen. We are doing our part. Won't you do yours? The warning is so timely that we pass it on. If it causes one of our readers to avoid danger of death or injury to himself or family we shall be more than satisfied.

CAN ANYBODY ANSWER THIS ENQUIRY?

To the Editor: The editors of the Chicago Tribune have referred me to your office for a little information in regard to a colony in California. I have been informed that the Southern California colony have a colony, where they farm on a co-operative plan and on the latest scientific method. Can you furnish me the name and address of this colony, or the name of some party whom I can write to for information on these people? The writer has been thinking of going out to California to take up farming on a small scale, but being single and having had very little experience in farming, I would prefer to go in with somebody that has some experience in that line. I have $1500 to invest.

A TOUCHING TRIBUTE.

San Francisco, May 8, 1915.
To the Editor: Will you do me the great kindness to publish the following testimony in your paper?

I was indeed very much mortified and heart-broken to read in the other day's paper that the Children's Home, under the leadership of Mrs. J. W. Wickson, was being criticized. I am sure that these accusations are all very false, and indeed unjust to an organization that gives its time, money, and energy to uplift conditions in the community.

I was raised there from a tiny, helpless babe until a few years ago. My recollections of my childhood days shall always be recalled with kindness and love. Here I was fed, clothed, and educated for the greater part of my life, and indeed, I owe a debt to the ladies too great to pay. I can at least show my gratitude and love to them in some small way.

The environments are ideal for any child growing up. Indeed, God's out-of-doors was revealed to me in the orchards and gardens, and in the fields. The children at the Home are on an equal basis with any other children physically and mentally. My greatest source of pride was imbued in me while I was there.

I am sure that the Ladies' Relief Society deserve only praise and gratitude from the community, and not condemnation from any outside source. I am,
Most truly yours,
HANA OKADA.

NOTABLE PERSONS

Livingston Phelps of New York and Mlle. de Berteaux were married yesterday at the Church of St. Vincent of Victory in Rome. Cardinal Vannutelli officiated and bestowed the blessing of the Pope. Among the witnesses were United States Ambassador Thomas Nelson Page and Mrs. Page, Duke di Romazzo and Prince di Brancaccio.

Former President Taft, in an address at the commencement exercises of the Wentworth Institute, both commended and criticized labor unions. He declared that the unions had maintained wages and had procured legislation advantageous to the employees. He contended, on the other hand, that initiative was destroyed and ambition taken away by the closed shop system, which he characterized as a narrow policy and one that did not encourage great skill, attention or speed.

Secretary Daniels yesterday designated Captain Robert E. Coontz, now commanding the battleship Georgia, as commandant of the naval station at Bremerton, Wash.

David Warfield and William H. Crane, both picturesque figures on the American stage, have taken quarters with their respective families at the St. Francis Hotel in San Francisco for the summer. Warfield always spends his vacation time in San Francisco. Crane comes as frequently as he finds it possible. Twenty-five years ago this week Crane opened an engagement at the old Baldwin theater.

David R. Francis, president of the St. Louis Exposition, with an audience of 1200 persons, exchanged greetings over the telephone yesterday with President Moore of the Panama-Pacific Exposition. The occasion was a banquet given by the Business Men's League of St. Louis for the purpose of reviewing the recent excursion of that organization to the San Francisco exposition.

Dr. Frank J. Goodnow, president of Johns Hopkins University, left Baltimore yesterday for China, whither he goes in his capacity as constitutional adviser of the Chinese republic. F. Goodnow said he had no mandate or mission for this country while in China.

His Love Song.

If you were mine, I think the earth
Would take a brighter color on;
Each day would mark a season's birth.
Each hour be radiant as the dawn.
The breeze were sweeter, and each star
With added brilliancy would shine—
This world below were better far
Than heaven could be—if you were mine!

If you were mine, the ills of life
Would be more easy to endure;
Untouched by all its storm and strife,
My soul more strong, my heart more pure.

And every song that I might sing
Would gain a note almost divine,
Such inspiration you would bring
To all I wrought—if you were mine.

If you were mine, I would not care
Though all the rest deserted me—
I still should have the largest share
Of joy, to all eternally;
Ay, more—for, dear, I can't forget
What wants extravagant are things—
I should be even more in debt
Than I am now, if you were mine!

TWIN PEAKS TO BE S. F. PROPERTY

Historic Landmark Purchased by City From Wells Fargo Express Company.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—San Francisco has purchased Twin Peaks. The historic landmark will become the city's property with the final passage of an ordinance by the supervisors Monday appropriating $12,740 to be paid to the Wells Fargo Express Company for fifty acres of land, which includes the peaks and which adjoins fifty acres already owned by the city, known as the Relief Home tract.

The purchase was not made without some legal and administrative trouble. An attempt to vote $200,000 for the purchase of property, including the Twin Peaks, two years ago was defeated by the people of San Francisco. So the supervisors this time passed an ordinance more cleverly worded that they themselves scarcely knew what it was about.

A scenic boulevard is planned for the new property, which is to be made into a municipal park.

CONVICT GIVES LIFE TO SAVE FELLOW PRISONER

JACKSON, Mich., June 11.—Harry Burns, a convict in the Michigan state prison here, lost his life here after having saved a fellow prisoner from death. Two inmates of the prison were painting a huge window when the one inside was overcome by the fumes. The second prisoner called for help. Burns responded and climbed into the vat. He succeeded in pushing the unconscious man through the opening, but himself fell back into the vat. He was dead when dragged out by other convicts.

Burns, whose home was in Detroit, was serving a sentence of from four to fourteen years for forgery.

NEW QUARANTINE ORDER AFFECTS CHICAGO YARDS

CINCINNATI, Ohio, June 11.—A new order of quarantine on account of the foot and mouth disease which affects the United States yards here came from the government bureau of animal industry at Washington yesterday. It was issued on the report of the state veterinarian at Baltimore that a shipment of hogs sent from this city on June 7 had been found infected.

The yards will be shut down until officials are satisfied all danger is removed.

GRAVES OUTLINES HIS GAME POLICY

Chief Forester Discusses Plans for Administration of Federal Resources.

NEW YORK, June 11.—Plans for a constructive policy by the federal government in the administration of the game resources of public lands was discussed yesterday by Chief Forester Henry S. Graves of the Department of Agriculture before several organizations of sportsmen and conservationists and the American Game Protective Association.

Mr. Graves, who did not advocate the curtailing of any recognized state rights, but expressed the hope that states would co-operate with the federal authorities in putting into effect a practical system of administration that would benefit all concerned.

During the coming summer, it was stated, the forest service and United States Bureau of Biological Survey in co-operation with officials of the Yellowstone National Park, would complete investigations necessary to determining a definite policy for the use of government lands as feeding grounds for game conservation for the protection, development and utilization of the 50,000 elk that inhabit the Yellowstone region will be tried out. In this investigation, the conflicting interests of the sheep ranchers in retaining grazing land, and the sportsmen who wish to start on the full protection of the elk, will be gone into fully, it was announced.

Among those present were E. W. Nelson, assistant chief of the biological survey, Robert Yard, department of the interior; President John H. Burnham of the American Game Protective Association; Dr. William T. Hornaday, New York Zoological Society, and Wilfred H. Osgood, Camp Fire Club of Chicago and the field museum of natural history.

O'BRIEN TO REMAIN IRISH CHANCELLOR

LONDON, June 11.—The difference between the Nationalist party and the unionists concerning the appointment of law officers for Ireland has been settled by permitting Ignatius O'Brien to retain the Irish Lord Chancellorship, instead of that office being given to the Right Hon. James H. M. Campbell, and by making John Gordon, Unionist member of Parliament for Londonderry, attorney-general.

Mr. Gordon, although an anti-home ruler, is not so pronounced an Ulsterite as Mr. Campbell. The nationalists agreed to accept him for the sake of the elimination of Mr. Campbell.

At a Nationalist meeting over which John Redmond, the party's leader, was presiding, resolutions were passed expressing satisfaction that the protests of the party had been successful "in preventing the lord chancellorship being handed over to a Unionist, and especially a Unionist with the record of Mr. Campbell."

The resolutions agree that the party shall abstain, in view of the extraordinary dangers of the present crisis, from taking any hostile action against the new government in connection with the appointment of a Unionist to the attorney-generalship of Ireland.

They express the conviction that nothing has occurred in any way to jeopardize "the certain coming of the home rule act into operation at the conclusion of the war, provided always, that maintaining the people protect and keep intact the National organization and preserve the essential unity of the country."

CONTROL BOARD FIGHTS CIVIL SERVICE BILL

SACRAMENTO, June 11.—A fight within the Administration headquarters is raging over the civil service bill passed by the last Legislature, owing to the desire of President of State Board of Control Nelson to secure the exemption of the employees of his department from the workings of the Civil Service Commission. That commission is using all its influence to secure a pocket veto of the measure, and its members believe the Governor will not sign it.

"We believe," said Chief Clerk Whitman of the Civil Service Commission, "that the law as proposed is not a particularly bad idea, but the proposition that the State Board of Control exempt the teeth out of the whole law."

"From its very position as an investigator of the state departments, the Board of Control should be above reproach but its activities in securing the passage of this measure lay it open to suspicion. We are opposing the bill, and would not be surprised to have the Governor refuse to sign it."

The law provides that employees may be discharged without a trial before the Civil Service Commission. The Governor has held a long hearing on the measure last week.

PRINCIPAL RESIGNS IN SANTA CLARA SCHOOL ROW

SAN JOSE, June 11.—The threatened disruption of the Santa Clara high school over the action of the board of education in dismissing Miss Cornelia Cooke, a member of the faculty, nearly ended in a riot when Professor H. G. Wells, principal of the high school, presented his resignation. It was accepted by the board.

This was followed by the announcement that six teachers in the high school would present their resignations before the close of school term tomorrow.

Scores of petitions with hundreds of signatures of parents threatening to withdraw their children from the Santa Clara high school and send them to San Jose unless Miss Cornelia Cooke is reinstated had no effect upon the board of education. Miss Cooke's dismissal was sought by Professor Wells, who in a verbal report to the board of education, expressed the belief that harmony among the faculty could only be gained by the dismissal of Miss Cooke.

There was much conjecture as to why Professor Wells resigned as principal after having ousted Miss Cooke. Professor Wells refuses to discuss any phase of the present trouble but it is generally believed that the dismissal of Miss Cooke caused additional ill feeling in the high school faculty and that Principal Wells presented his resignation as a means of pacifying the various factions of the community.

Traveling Man's Experience.
"In the summer of 1883 I had a very severe attack of cholera morbus. Two physicians worked over me for four or five days without giving me any relief and I was told that they did not expect me to live; that I had best telegraph for my family. Instead of doing so, I gave the hotel porter fifty cents and told him to buy me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and take no substitute. I took a double dose according to the directions and went to sleep after the second dose. At five o'clock the next morning I was called by my mother and took a train for my next stop, feeling well. I had been feeling rather shaky from the severity of the attack," writes H. W. Ireland, Louisville, Ky. For sale by Osgood Bros. drug store.—Advertisement.

HAWAIIANS HOLD HIGH CARNIVAL

Governor Pinkham Is Guest of Honor at Notable Celebration.

TRIBUNE BUREAU, Panama-Pacific Exposition, June 11.—Hawaii's color and romance, its music and its flowers, were all revived today when, on the anniversary of Kamehameha, the old Hawaiian warrior, and in honor of Governor Lucius Pinkham, present governor and representative of the new order in the tropical islands, an elaborate celebration was held here.

Formal exercises opened the celebration this morning, with a reception in the afternoon. Tonight sees the big feature of the celebration in the water park, in which Hawaiian canoes will glide about the Marina and singing boatmen will waile the air with the strains of Hawaiian.

Commissioner R. G. Rivenburgh and military aides met Governor Pinkham this morning and a parade proceeded to the water park. The exercises began at 11 o'clock. President C. C. Moore, Governor Pinkham, Mayor Ralph and others spoke. The reception was in the California building.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—Rose Kean was awarded $400 yesterday by a jury in her suit against Arthur K. Brewer, a mining man, for $500 on an alleged contract to pay her $200 monthly. They were formerly sweethearts in Mexico City.

REMARKABLE CASE of Mrs. HAM

Declares Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Saved Her Life and Sanity.

Shamrock, Mo.—"I feel it my duty to tell the public the condition of my health before using your medicine. I had falling, inflammation, and congestion, female weakness, pains in both sides, backaches and bearing down pains, was short of memory, nervous, impatient, passed sleepless nights, and had neither strength nor energy. There was always a fear and dread in my mind. I had cold, nervous, weak spells, hot flashes over my body. I had a place in my right side that was so sore that I could hardly bear the weight of my clothes. I tried medicines and doctors, but they did me little good, and I never expected to get out again. I got Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier, and I certainly would have been in grave or in an asylum if your medicines had not saved me. But now I can work all day, sleep well at night, eat anything I want, have no hot flashes or weak nervous spells. All pains, aches, fears and dreads are gone, my house, children and husband are no longer neglected, as I am almost entirely free of the bad symptoms I had before taking your remedies, and all is pleasure and happiness in my home."

Don't Poison Baby.

Forty years ago almost every mother thought her child must have PAREGORIC or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and a few drops too many will produce the SLEEP FROM WHICH THERE IS NO WAKING. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labeling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is "a medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without your or your physician's knowledge of what it is composed. CASTORIA DOES NOT CONTAIN NARCOTICS, if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

STEAMSHIP LINE WILL DISSOLVE

Government to Annul Treaty
Clauses in Conflict
With Law

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, June 11.—The United States has instructed its diplomats abroad to ask for the annulment of those paragraphs of commercial treaties which conflict with the new Seaman's law.

EFFECTIVE NEXT YEAR.

As the Seaman's law does not become effective until March, 1916, on foreign ships, there is much time for diplomatic examinations. President Wilson signed it during the closing hours of the last Congress and let it become known he thought he could handle the objections to it.

Germany, Great Britain, Italy, France and Belgium and other nations made representations that the bill's provision raising the standard of labor and affecting the equipment of ships which visit American waters conflicted with their rights under the new law.

The provisions of the act apply to American vessels earlier than to foreign ones and one company which manned its ships with Chinese crews already has given notice that it will discontinue.

PACIFIC MAIL TO RETIRE; SEAMAN'S LAW BLAMED

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, June 11.—Through inability to comply with the seaman's bill and continue to meet the Japanese competition in the Pacific ocean, and because of the Panama canal act which prohibits steamship lines controlled by a railroad company to carry freight and passengers between Pacific and Atlantic ports via the canal, it is the intention of the management of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company to sell its vessels as soon as possible, and then dissolve.

This means the end of the only American steamship line on the Pacific. A rise of 34 points in the company's stock on the exchange today was attributed to the fact that because of the European war ships are more valuable today if they can be operated under other than United States regulations.

Of the outstanding capital of $20,000,000.

DRUG SLEUTH SERIOUSLY ACCUSED

Sutherland Charged With Protection and Wife With Selling "Dope."

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—Sensational charges against Chief Inspector Sutherland of the State Pharmacy Board and his wife were made when the prosecution closed its case before President Neylan of the Board of Control this morning.

When Sutherland announced that all of his evidence against his brother-in-law, James Oliver, in behalf of the Pharmacy Board, made the following accusations against Sutherland:

That he protected the Belvedere Hotel, known as a resort of drug fiends, where illicit drugs could be purchased during all of 1912, and a part of 1913, while he was an inspector for the State Board of Pharmacy.

That the State Board will seek to prove that Mrs. Sutherland, his wife, had been trafficking in illicit drugs for three years and subsequent to her marriage to Sutherland and while Sutherland was an inspector of the board.

That Sutherland gave false testimony at an investigation before the board, between May 6 and May 13.

That Sutherland swore falsely in connection with what occurred on Tuesday, February 9, 1915, at Oliver's office when there were present Secretary Vah and Messrs. Molony, Sutherland and Oliver of the Pharmacy Board.

That Sutherland has been inebriated, has disregarded the orders of the board and has wilfully, wantonly and knowingly, without evidence, preferred charges against the Board of Pharmacy with consequent menace to the integrity and character of its members.

After these charges had been read several drug users were called as witnesses by Oliver, one of whom testified that Grover Pickler, star witness for Sutherland, had sought to enlist his aid in framing up against the other inspectors.

ALLEGES INTIMIDATION.

The witness of the forensic session was Charles Galvin, known as "Dick." He testified that at the outset of his testimony by declaring that yesterday afternoon he had met two men in a saloon at Sixth and Mission streets.

"They asked me if I was Dick Galvin," he declared. "I told them yes, and they said, 'Are you a witness at the Pharmacy Board?' I said I was, and they told me I had better stay away. Then I met Detective Joyce in the hallway and he asked me if I knew anything about Inspector White and I told him what I knew and he said, 'You don't have to get up and say that.'"

When Neylan inquired as to why Galvin had not been on had yesterday to testify he said he was afraid to come. Then he recounted an incident of several days ago when he met a policeman named Mitchell and another officer whose name he said he did not know.

"One of them remarked as I passed," asserted Galvin. "He is one of those, too. We might as well send him up. Then Mitchell said, 'No, it's better to let him go.'"

STATE SHOULD CONTROL ALL UTILITIES

So Says Expert in an Address at Electrical Convention.

That the state and not municipalities, would achieve greater success in the regulation of public utilities was the conclusion of John H. Roemer, formerly chairman of the railroad commission of Wisconsin, in an address at the public policy meeting of the National Electric Light Association, now in convention in San Francisco, last evening.

Roemer is considered one of the foremost authorities of the United States on problems of municipal or community ownership of public utilities. In his address last night, which was entitled "Municipal Regulation of Public Utilities," he explained his views on every possible phase of the subject. He said in part:

"When the regulation of public utilities by municipal councils, generally called 'home rule,' is urged, its advocates do not seem to realize that state regulation is increasingly finding its justification, not in a political theory, but in the complexity of our civilization, and the growth of the public service industry to meet the needs of that civilization in the most economical way possible.

"Through the advance of the sciences involved in those industries, and through superior business organization, the interests of cities, towns, villages and countryside are to a greater and greater extent common interests. Public utilities are forming a more and more important factor in the economic life of the people, wherever living.

"Doubtless in the early days of the various public utility industries, they were largely local in character, confined their operations to the various municipalities in which they happened to be located. However, the operations of public utilities are becoming less and less merely co-extensive with the boundaries of any one municipality.

"When one appreciates how increasingly inter-related and inter-dependent public service companies are becoming, both as to their physical operation and their corporate control and ownership, one can hardly help asking himself—

"Would absolute home rule of all public service companies be successful and would municipal ownership promote the most economic development of public utilities?

Consideration of the great difficulties involved must inevitably lead one to the conclusion that the answer to the question is in the negative.

STATE SHOULD CONTROL UTILITIES

—J. H. ROEMER.

So Says Expert in an Address at Electrical Convention.

The first question is emphatically "no," and consideration of the direction that the economic development of utilities has taken, must lead one to the conclusion that the answer to the second question is also "no." In fact, it has been suggested that if there is to be public ownership at all, a state ownership rather than municipal might often be more in line with the present and promised development of the public service industries.

"Turning again to the question of 'home rule,' we find that difficulties spring up on every side. Perhaps the first difficulty which suggests itself is that the municipality's powers in the present and promised development of the public service industries, are only co-existent with its own boundaries.

"The whole problem is one of apportionment and accounting, and it is submitted that even if possible in simple cases municipalities have grappled successfully with it. The problem as a general principle is emphatically one for the state, and not the municipality, to cope with successfully.

"Theoretically, it might be possible for the municipality acting separately to achieve results. The practical difficulties in the attempt of separate municipal units, rather than one powerful central body to correctly ascertain the necessary accounting facts with regard to a larger corporation conducting its business over an extensive area and in many municipalities, would be insurmountable."

FIRE IN HOTEL.

Fire of undetermined origin caused damage amounting to $500 at the Winchester House, 42, Ninth street, shortly after midnight. The fire started in a room on the second floor and spread to the fire department prevented the blaze from spreading. Mrs. S. Delmas conducts the hotel. She was unable to explain how the fire had started.

Freckle-Face

Here's a chance, Miss Freckle-face, to try a remedy for freckles with the guarantee of a reliable dealer that it will not cost you a penny unless it removes the freckles; while if it does give you a clear complexion the expense is trifling.

Simply get an ounce of othine—double strength—from any druggist and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of the homely freckles and get a beautiful complexion. Rarely is more than one ounce needed for the worst case.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength othine as this is the prescription sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.—Advertisement.

OWNS THIRTEEN SHIPS.

The steamship company now owns thirteen vessels, with a book value of $1,250,000. Because of the passage of the Panama canal act, the Pacific Mail Company was forced to cancel an order for four big steamships, to cost $12,000,000. The management announced, however, that it would continue to keep alive its operation between the Orient and the Pacific Coast, in competition with four big Japanese lines heavily subsidized by the Japanese government. The passage of the seamen's act, prohibiting the employment of Oriental crews, however, has made this impossible.

In a table compiled by the company it is shown that the total increase in wages and cost of feeding crews which would result by operating under the seamen's act, would amount to $90,042 for coastwise trade and $20,542 for deep sea traffic. The company has already announced that it would cease to sail its ships across the Pacific ocean on November 2. R. P. Schwaner, vice-president and general manager, said to a congressional committee recently:

"If you had struggled for twenty years, as I have, taken a line that was $1,250,000 in debt, doubled its traffic by slow, hard labor, raised $12,000,000 to build four 37,000-ton ships to put into the trade from New York to the Philippines and you were defeated by Congress through the act of the seamen's act, I think you would be a little discouraged.

"I have given twenty years of my life, morning, noon and night, to see the American flag on the ocean, and if those four ships had been built I would have had four more for the coast of South America."

MILL FOREMAN SHOT WHILE LIGHTING PIPE

GREENWOOD, June 11.—Joe Dias, foreman of the L. E. White Lumber Company's mill here, was shot through the right hand from ambush as he was lighting his pipe in the road near the Reed house.

The shot was evidently aimed at his head, as he was holding the match in front of his face with his right hand, three fingers of which were blown off.

The sheriff this morning placed an Italian under arrest, who had recently been discharged by Dias, and is taking him to Ukiah for trial. A gun was found under his barn.

CAUGHT IN STORM ON SIBERIAN COAST; MANY LOSE LIVES

By Associated Press.

NOME, Alaska, June 11.—The gasoline schooner Polar Bear, Captain Louis Laue, which sailed from Seattle, March 23, 1915, arrived from the Siberian coast last night with tales of storm, shipwreck and death. Captain Laue reported that the steam whaler Belvedere, commanded by Captain A. P. Jochimsen, was nearly wrecked in a terrible storm in Kamchatka bay, on the Siberian coast, and four of the crew perished. Heavy seas continually washed the decks of the Belvedere, flooding the engine-room and other passages and almost causing the ship to founder. Two days after anchoring six men put out for shore in a rowboat, which was captured. George Babster, Antonio Roderick, John Domingo and a Russian, name unknown, were drowned. Olaf Swenson, second officer of the ship, swam ashore, as also did Chief Engineer J. T. Clayton.

Captain N. M. Wedding of the small trading schooner Eagle, who wintered at the mouth of the Koltma river, Siberia, suffered the loss of one hand and all the fingers and thumb of the other by freezing. He is in a serious condition.

The gasoline schooner New Jersey, which left Nome last fall, with Orin Bank in command and a crew of Eskimos, is believed to have been lost in the Arctic.

LIQUOR MEN PLAN WAR ON PROHIBITION

By Associated Press.

CINCINNATI, O., June 11.—The twentieth annual convention of the Wholesale Liquor Dealers' Association came to a close here yesterday with the re-election of all the officers, the selection of St. Louis as the convention city for 1915 and the adoption of a resolution urging that the fight against prohibition be prosecuted with even greater vigor than has been done heretofore.

Vice-President George C. Dempsey of Boston was the principal speaker at the closing session.

He said: "Such machines as the anti-saloon league are apt to do harm that will be very great. The evil which lies in such a system is very plain, for no matter what kind of a man the legislator may be or what principle he may present, or what methods he may employ, just as long as he is a 'dry' voter and a 'dry' advocate he is bound by the anti-saloon league."

PREDICTS PARCEL POST DOWNFALL

President of Wells, Fargo Co.
Addresses Commercial Club at Luncheon.

H. D. Caldwell, president of the Wells Fargo Express Company of New York City, predicted an early downfall for the parcel post system, speaking at the luncheon of the Commercial Club today at a luncheon given in honor of several of the corporation's officials.

"We, with other express companies, have been in difficulties the last two years," he said. "The parcel post took all of 15 percent of our business away. It was a hard blow. I will venture to say that the Wells Fargo Company was the only express concern to make any profits during the past two years, and ours were mighty small."

"The parcel post, though, undertook too much. The public is beginning to realize that the service is not as complete or satisfactory, by far, as that afforded by the express companies, and this means that more and more business will return to the corporations, and leave the parcel post service."

"There are good times ahead. The worst is over and we will very soon see a revival of financial and business conditions which will soon make us forget the last two years."

Other Wells Fargo officials who were guests of the Commercial Club were A. Christeson, vice-president and general manager, of San Francisco; F. S. Holbrook, vice-president of New York; S. Lord, financial and foreign manager, of New York; E. R. Jones, general superintendent, of Los Angeles; C. R. Graham, general superintendent, San Francisco; N. K. Lockwood, traffic manager, San Francisco; W. P. Clark, secretary to the president; T. A. Woods and E. E. Henn, superintendents, San Francisco; J. F. Baker, efficiency superintendent, San Francisco, and A. H. Peterson, general agent, Oakland.

Blow Struck During Quarrel Is Fatal

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—As a result of an assault by one of two strangers with whom he had had a quarrel after S. Treadwell, a cigar salesman, died from a fractured skull at the Central Emergency Hospital this morning. Although the attack occurred on Wednesday night, it was not until midnight that Treadwell found any ill effects from a blow he had received on the head and it was then that he was hurried to the hospital.

Treadwell was employed by the Marks Cigar Company, 201 Third street. Two men engaged in a quarrel with him following a dispute over a dice game. With the aid of Robert Johnson Treadwell ejected them from the store. A few moments later they returned and one of them threw a brick which struck Treadwell on the head. Although nursing a bad laceration, Treadwell closed the store, went home and yesterday was ready to work. The police are looking for his assailant.

It is believed that the launches were on the lookout for smuggling parties said to have recently departed from the west coast of Mexico for California points.

STREET SWEEPING CONTRACT COSTLY

Council Awards Big Privilege
Over Protest of Commissioner Turner.

Despite the fact that ten well-known physicians recommended the Butler sanitary street sweeping as the best method of cleaning the streets, and stated that they believed the city would do well to let the contract to this concern even at a higher cost, the city council today let the contract for the coming fiscal year to Joseph Martin for street sweeping with a rotary broom. Action was taken on the recommendation of Commissioner W. J. Baucum, who submitted estimates to show that the Martin contract would save the city between $500 and $600 in the coming twelve months.

Charles E. Nussbaumer, representing Joseph H. Butler, stated that the city would not really let the contract to Martin, as the specifications demanded that the streets shall be swept in a dustless manner, and Judge Nussbaumer presented the testimony of his ten physicians to prove that this was impossible by the Martin method. Judge Nussbaumer declared that in his opinion the city would not really let the contract to Martin, as the specifications demanded that the streets shall be swept in a dustless manner, and Judge Nussbaumer presented the testimony of his ten physicians to prove that this was impossible by the Martin method.

Commissioner Turner wanted to have action deferred until the new administration takes office, as the matter is one of policy. He said:

"It is a question of policy whether we want to pay a higher price for a higher standard of work," said Commissioner F. C. Turner. "I think this is a matter of policy, and that it should be decided by the next city council, as the next council will levy the taxes from which the expense must be paid."

"If you put this in the hands of the next administration you folks will be censured," said Commissioner W. J. Baucum.

"What do you mean by that?" asked Turner.

"Well, for your actions in the past in splitting the contract between Butler and Martin. That wasn't right."

"I'm nothing to apologize for," said Turner. "I think what we did was right."

"So do I," declared Mayor Mott. "And I'll defend it down to the last jot. If anything, we should have awarded the whole contract to Butler."

Butler made a statement to the council that his machine is being used at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition for sweeping the grounds, and that it has received the approval of engineers from Los Angeles, New York and Syracuse.

Martin was represented by Attorney James A. Johnson, who cross-examined the physicians brought to testify by Judge Nussbaumer. All the physicians agreed that the city would be justified in incurring the extra expense. The Martin bid was 20 cents, and the Butler bid 25 cents per 1000 square yards.

"Mr. Martin's system is absolutely superannuated," declared Judge Nussbaumer. "He cannot sweep the streets in a manner that is in accordance with the plans and specifications. He knows he cannot sweep in a dustless manner. There is no doubt about this, and if you let the contract to Martin we will stop him from collecting pay for that work, as he cannot do it. You have no right to let this contract to Martin."

Dr. O. D. Hamlin, G. F. Reine, H. R. Mehrmann, J. L. Milton, L. Adams, William Dunn, C. T. Devine, W. H. Streiffman, H. S. Kergan, Carl E. Curtis and John Kane were the physicians questioned.

Judge Nussbaumer also questioned Frank Mathers of the Bay Cities Iron Works and George Randolph of the United Machine Works as mechanics.

Dr. O. D. Hamlin said:

"My idea is that the machine that sweeps up less dust is the better machine; that is, the sanitary street sweeping machine. The sprinkling in front of the Martin machine lays some of the dust. The passing of the broom, however, stirs up the dust again. It is my opinion that the Martin machine raises quite a dust."

A letter from Superintendent of Streets Perry F. Brown, in which the Butler Sanitary Street Sweeping Company performed its work carefully and well and that it was not necessary to clean out the sewers and gutters of the streets swept by the sanitary manner.

Judge Nussbaumer called Superintendent Brown as a witness and asked him if this was also the case with the Martin machine. Brown admitted that Martin had been penalized for failing to sweep the streets satisfactorily.

SHOOT TO SCARE OFF HER INVISIBLE SUITOR

The firing of several shots called Patrolmen Tillotson and Maxey to 1411 Tenth street, late last night. They found John Gorham crouching beside the front steps, a revolver in one hand and a large dirk in the other.

Tillotson wanted to place Gorham under arrest, but Gorham said:

"Wait a minute; maybe you can help me."

"What is the matter?" demanded the policeman.

"It's this way," said Gorham. "My daughter is in the front room of my home here and she has got somebody with her. I want to scare him out so he won't come back."

The police investigated but failed to find either the daughter or her admirer. They brought Gorham to the police station and it is possible he will be charged with discharging firearms within the city limits.

ALBANY TO HOLD MASS MEETING

Opponents of New Saloon to Foster Protest at School on Sunday.

ALBANY, June 11.—A mass meeting to protest against the granting of a fourth saloon license in Albany, and to formulate ways and means of calling a new county and city election has been called for 7 o'clock to-morrow night at the Albany Y. M. C. A. building. From all indications a great crowd of citizens will be present; as the action of the council last week has occasioned more discussion than any civic question in the city.

The meeting, which has been set at 7 o'clock, was called by the Albany Improvement club of which Thomas Meers, it is thought, will be Trustee. Fred Brown, Rev. Hugh Baker and McCourt

The new saloon operated under the management of Roger G. Earl, of San Francisco, opened for business yesterday in the Moore block. The bartender was kept busy on the opening day, receiving protests from its opponents, who took the occasion to visit the place and to demand that the license be withdrawn. The wishes of a large number of the citizens. The license was granted by the council early in the week over the protest of Trustees Brown and a large gallery of citizens. The saloon is being run on a very understanding and lenient basis to three

It is confidently expected in Albany that a new wet and dry election will result and petitions for the same are already prepared for circulation.

MISSION CONGRESS SETS DAY APART

Young Women Honored by a Special Program and Floral Favors.

Relieved from their usual sobriety, the sessions of the Woman's Congress of Missions were colorful today with flowers sent by generous Oakland society women and Oakland florists in honor of "Young Women's Day." Masses of these blossoms, collected under the chairmanship of Mrs. Charles Lombard, adorned the First Congregational church, while others were distributed in nosegays to each of the thousand delegates.

Variations were introduced into the program as well. Following the afternoon session a meeting for business women is scheduled for 5:15 o'clock, after which a supper for young women will be held with Miss Grace Fisher, president of the Oakland Young Women's Christian Association, presiding.

Speakers will include Miss Olive Gibson, Mrs. W. D. Elmore, Mrs. Mary Church Terrell and Dr. Mary Noble. Those who addressed the morning and afternoon sessions were Mrs. D. Everett Ward, Mrs. W. A. Montgomery, Rev. Fred P. Goodsell of Turkey, Rev. James Francis and Mrs. DeWitt Knox. Miss Susan Mendenhall told stories of famous missionaries.

This evening, with Mrs. John S. Allen presiding, a mass meeting for young men will be held at 8 o'clock in the auditorium. Led by the vested choir of Mills College, a procession of young women in charge of Miss Mabel Head, will open the devotional service. Mrs. Allen will speak on "Service," and Mrs. W. A. Montgomery will discuss "The New Woman in the Orient."

The Oakland Young Women's Christian Association has announced a vesper service to be given next Sunday at 5 o'clock under the auspices of the Woman's Congress of Missions. Dr. Mary Eiggs Noble of India and Miss Mildred Woodberry of New York will be the principal speakers.

Tomorrow's big feature will be the presentation at the Greek Theater in Berkeley of the Home Mission Pageant, given for the first time last night. This spectacle depicts the work of the missionary among the foreign nationalities who have settled in this country from the landing

King Balboa Now Rules Nation of Popular Dances

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—(La Lulu Fado est mort! Vive le Roi Balboa!)

Sixty-five dancing masters, representing every district from Montreal to New Orleans and from New York to San Francisco, meeting in Puckett's Hall in Sutter street, convention of the International Dancing Masters' Association, yesterday dealt a death blow to Lulu Fado and her successors and descendants, and placed Balboa on the throne of that mythic country, Terpichore. Each voted, hand on heart, that upon returning home nothing but the Balboa would be taught to expectant couples.

Four dances were decided upon as co-adjuts of yesterday's session of the convention. Besides the Balboa, which is the child of Frank H. Norman of Stanley Hall, Montreal, approval was placed on the Exposition waltz, originated by M. Klingler of Portland, the advanced one-step, by P. H. Kelley of Holyoke, Mass., and the new fox, by Mrs. Teresa Nolan Smithdorf of Chicago. But the Balboa, first named "The Frisco," received first consideration.

Norman had its origin in bits of dances from three periods—the modern, or fantastic period, the two-step period and the waltz to one-step tempo. All of the new dances are simple, the music snappy, placing a rigid ban on complicated steps. Also has a death blow been dealt to the bunny hug, the rag and others of the rather intimate dances.

ALLEGED MURDERER LYNCHED.
JOHNSON CITY, Ill., June 11.—John S. Hando, who was arrested in connection with the murder of Edward Chapman, a retired farmer, was taken from the jail by a mob and lynched yesterday. Several persons were injured in the fight at the jail.

of the Pilgrim Fathers to the present day. In the evening Mrs. Mary Church Terrell, a cultured colored resident of Washington, D. C., will present "The Progress and the Problem of the Colored Woman."

Use Sani-Scent After Shaving.

AWAKES TO FIND BURGLAR IN ROOM

San Francisco Woman Loses Purse and Coin to Intruder.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—Awakened from a sound sleep by the noise made by a burglar in her room, Mrs. Frances Haverly of 325 O'Farrell street sat up in bed at 3:45 this morning to find the cold steel of a big revolver pressed against her cheek. If you don't sleep quiet I will kill you, whispered the intruder in her ear.

Mrs. Haverly endeavored to ask the man what he was doing in her apartment. "You lie still there, or it will go hard with you," was the answer of the burglar as he slipped through the door downstairs.

Taking courage at hearing him leave, Mrs. Haverly jumped up, ran after him and cried for aid. A telephone call was sent to police headquarters and Detective Michael Burke, with several officers, hurried into the police automobile. They found Mrs. Haverly depicting the loss of a cash purse containing $210. This was later found inside out by Burke where it had been dropped by the burglar on the stairway between the fourth and fifth floors. A search of the neighborhood revealed no trace of the culprit.

CASKET OF JEWELS STOLEN DURING FIRE
During the fire at Seventeenth street and Telegraph avenue, in the Western block yesterday, thieves stole a small jewel casket from the apartment of Mrs. Mildred Hoffman, 1719 Telegraph avenue. The casket contained rings and other jewelry valued at $300. Mrs. Hoffman declares that a number of people rushed through the rooms warning the people in the adjoining houses of the fire. She believes that the fire was among these.

Mrs. M. M. Leiser, 115 Twenty-second street, reported that while her furniture was being moved a large box of table linen containing many valuable pieces, valued at $250, was lost.

An attempted burglary was made at the home of Mrs. R. Kohler, 376 Piedmont avenue, but the thief was frightened away and obtained nothing of value.

SAYS SOCIAL LIFE MAKES NAVY MEN

"If You Can Stand Entertaining. You Can Get Promoted."

NEW YORK, June 11.—Rear-Admiral Arthur W. Winslow, commander of the Newport Navy Yard, addressing a gathering of prominent men at a luncheon of the Navy League, asserted yesterday that the promotion system of the navy was ruinous, that men able to stand entertaining were advanced, while their sea experience was sadly neglected, and that the age limit was wrong.

The navy, he said, should be run by navy men. Unless such men were placed in control, he asserted, the navy could not be efficient.

"Our promotion system," Rear-Admiral Winslow said, "is ruinous. Seniority counts today and more particularly a man's height instead of a man's fitness. Today a man who can swim well ashore, ride in an automobile in comfort and stand the entertaining is pushed along, while his sea experience is sadly neglected. It should not be necessary to insist on examinations for promotion and the age limit is wrong. A man of sixty years cannot stand what a man of forty-five can go through. The older man can't do his work at sea."

"We must have a seagoing navy. You, the public, must look up your navy. You are the people who can do it. The navy should be run by navy men; if you don't put the navy in the hands of naval officers, you can't have an efficient navy."

The proper course for the public to pursue, he thought, was to know its navy.

The luncheon was held to further the league's program to have congress authorize the expansion of $500,000,000 for a navy and was attended by more than 100 prominent men, including J. P. Morgan, Albert H. Gary, Theodore F. Shonts, Jacob H. Schiff, Harry Payne Whitney.

NO POLITICS FOR NAVY YARD MEN

State Commission Ends System by Revocation of Permit.

VALLEJO, June 11.—The State Civil Service Commission today revoked the permission granted several years ago to Mare Island employees to engage in municipal elections in this city involving liquor and vice issues. The revocation follows an investigation into alleged political activity of several Mare Island employees at the election of last November. The commission declares that the permission has been repeatedly abused, and says that if permission to become a candidate for a specific office is desired, the employee must now apply through official channels to the secretary of the commission by whom the matter will be referred to the commission.

The order states that employees of the navy yard are not excused from the rule prohibiting political activity by reason of membership or office holding in labor organizations. The order does not prohibit them from being delegates to the labor council, although it states that this is deemed inadvisable, but it does prohibit their holding office in the labor council or gathering or disseminating information regarding candidates for office or proposed legislation, giving advice to voters or engaging in any political activity.

BECKER MAKES FINAL APPEAL TO N. Y. COURTS

NEW YORK, June 11.—The last appeal to the courts of New York for the life of Charles Becker, sentenced to die in Sing Sing prison during the week of July 12 for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, was made when his counsel, Martin T. Manton, forwarded to the Court of Appeals at Albany a brief on a motion for the resumption of the case. A copy was filed in the district attorney's office here.

COCONUT OIL MAKES A SPLENDID SHAMPOO

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, the less soap you use the better.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulitified coconut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless) is much better than soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleaning the hair of scalp, thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes
